MY PROFILE

I'm a trained community organizer who specializes in Public Interest Communications. I work with non profits and advocacy groups in solidifying feedback loops between key stakeholders that drive authentic conversations. I develop and implement communication strategies that center stories of lived experience to maximize impact and drive sustained, social change around today's most demanding issues through collaborative, cross sector campaigning.

WORK

• 2021 - present

Communications Project Manager
California Youth Connection

I was hired internally to build out a rapid response communications infrastructure within the organization to establish clear feedback loops with California's Department of Social Services and the Foster Care Ombudsman's Office in Sacramento.

• 2019 - 2021

Community Advocacy Coordinator
California Youth Connection

I built relationships throughout the Bay Area with county-level decision-makers and participated in community meetings related to CYC's policy agenda and expansion of local chapter work while cultivating our youth member base. I partnered with youth organizers in conducting local level advocacy related to our campaign work.

• 2016-2019

Outreach Coordinator
Beyond Emancipation Oakland

Collaborated with Alameda County Social Workers to develop and implement feedback loops with foster and probation youth around the county. Worked with program and administrative staff in administering newsletters and external facing communications.

EDUCATION

• 2016 - 2019

BA Political Science
California State University East Bay

I transferred into the Political Science program at CSU East Bay in Hayward, CA from Laney College in Oakland. In addition, I completed coursework for a minor in Communications with an emphasis in Public Policy.
